A Bountiful Harvest

If you ask most farmers in our area, we have had a good harvest this year. Despite the heat of this summer, the weeks of no rain, and the usual obstacles to growing good crops, God has been merciful and blessed us with more than we expected. The tractor wagons are full. The grain bins are full. Maybe you've seen the same in your own garden too. Your veggie basket is full.

We have been blessed with great abundance at the BCS Auction this year as well.

This auction book is full of items from our generous community - businesses and families that faithfully and generously support BCS. The auction tables will be full of gift baskets, gift cards, handmade items, baked goods, home goods, and more. The auctioneers will have a full house of bidders ready to raise their paddle. And when the night finally comes to a close, our hearts will be full as well.

Full of gratitude to every person who makes this night such a success. And full of praise to our Heavenly Father, who gives all these good gifts from His own hand. Truly, this is His Bountiful Harvest tonight, a harvest of giving and supporting. And we thank Him most of all. With this year's theme verse, the BCS students would remind us that it's less about what we did and more about Him and what He does through us for His own glory, for: "He must increase, but I must decrease."

(John 3:30)

Thank you, Borculo Christian Teachers and Staff. You always come through for us and we are ever grateful for your love and influence in our kids' lives.

Thank you, Al Nienhuis and Joel Petroelje, for returning as our beloved auctioneers. You make this night a joy, and we appreciate your dedicated service to our school.

A sincere THANK YOU to the following supporters for their generous financial contributions:
